HOMECOMING 1987

The halls of Yorkwood were filled with anxious and excited students as Homecoming 1987 came to life. The weekdays were festive with Nerd Day, Sweats Day, Bedhead/Pajama Day, and Purple and Gold Day. The volleyball tournament highlighted the days while on Thursday night good weather allowed for the first bonfire in four years. On Friday, classes were let out at 2:00 for the pep assembly, and spirits were high as the Golden Bears defeated Union 21-3. The theme song for Saturday's dance was "Faithfully", with entertainment provided by the Tri-State Sound and Light Show. The coronation of the 1987 Royalty ended the very enjoyable and memorable Homecoming Week.

The Golden Bears returned to a tradition of power football as they worked to regain respectability in the Bi-County Conference. The Bears broke an 11-game losing streak with an early-season win over Northwestern. Led by 1st year Head Coach Larry Keener and Senior Co-Captains, Steve Crain, Matt Hinton, and Jeff Raes, the squad came back from a disappointing '86 season to finish the year with a 4-4 record. Steve Crain was chosen Most Valuable Player and was the leading rusher with over 1100 yards. Jeff Raes was named Scholar-Athlete and Eric Cunningham was named Most Improved Player. Gaining recognition for the Bears on the Bi-County All-Conference squads were Mike Gillen, Shawn Gillen, Jeff Henry, Jeff Stuart, and P. J. Thompson, in addition to Crain, Hinton, and Raes.

JV BEARS WORK

The LaHarpe ball carrier is sandwiched by Yorkwood Defenders Colby Davis and Steve Lovell.

The 1987 JV football team saw a definite improvement in team spirit and attitude, as well as those all-important skills. After a disappointing season last year, the squad bounced back with a 5-3 record. The fans enjoyed many exciting moments highlighted by an 8-6 victory over Bi-County champion and archrival Warren. The JV Bears ended the year with a 38-0 trouncing of the LaHarpe Eagles and are eagerly looking forward to next year's football season.

1987-88 was a rebuilding year for the YHS Volleyball teams. Beginning the season with no varsity experience, the squad took the challenge, learned quickly, and took many of their opponents to the third game in their matches. Encouraged by the leadership shown by the returning lettermen, the coaches are looking forward to a more impressive "win" column next season. Special recognition went to Karin Keener with the LAH Award and Honorable Mention in the Bi-County Conference selections and to Ann Potter with the Most Valuable Player, Most Points, and 2nd Team Bi-County Conference selection.

The Challenges

Let your past be not a ball and chain tied to your ankle to keep you back, but a journal to tell you what road you have traveled. Then, looking back only long enough to see where you are and what your course should be, forget the things that are behind and press forward.

The 1987-88 Golden Bears started the season slowly, but finished strong by winning four of the last seven games of the season. Second-year Head Coach Jim Simpson stressed hard work and defense to implant pride back into Yorkwood basketball. The highlight of the season was beating both Avon and Warren impressively on their home courts. Individual awards were presented to Matt Hinton and Jeff Raes, Co-Captains; Jeff Henry, Most Valuable Defense, All-Conference (2nd Team), Review Atlas All-Area Team; Chris Brown, Free Throw Percentage, All-Conference (Hon. Men.); Scott Hume, Most Improved; and Matt Hinton, Most Valuable Player.

The key words were pride and determination as the Golden Bears JV squad captured few victories but steadily improved throughout the 1987-88 season. Climaxing the season with a fourth-place finish in the Yorkwood Fresh-Soph Tournament, the JV Bears worked to lay the groundwork for a future successful program. Coach Larry Keener presented the MVP award to Gus Wright and the Free Throw award to Jason Seaton.

Although inexperienced, the Junior Varsity acquired essential skills throughout their 3-13 season. Winning was not one of their strong points, but achieving set goals was. Many of the girls gradually achieved these goals during the season. A few of the players were honored at the Winter Sports' Banquet. Paula Erlandson received the JV Most Improved Award. Megan Crandall received the Freethrow Award, and the LAH Award was presented to Amy Carson.

THE MANY DAYS

The 1987-88 Christmas season began on Dec. 2 when the FHA gave a Christmas party for district children. Soon after, the Spanish classes created festive piñatas. A blizzard and thunderstorm interrupted the season with two snow days, but there was no interruption in student spirit. The piñatas were finished in time for the elementary students to burst them open. The Winter Dance enlivened Christmas spirits, even in the Scrooges. The dance was full of fun, new dances, and mistletoe. The Christmas Concert was Dec. 21, featuring the Jr. High Band, and the High School Band and Chorus. On the final day of school before Christmas break, the students enjoyed the movies "Hoosiers" and "Short Circuit," provided by the Student Council. Because of the many fun-filled activities, Christmas at Yorkwood in 1987-88 was a holiday season to remember.

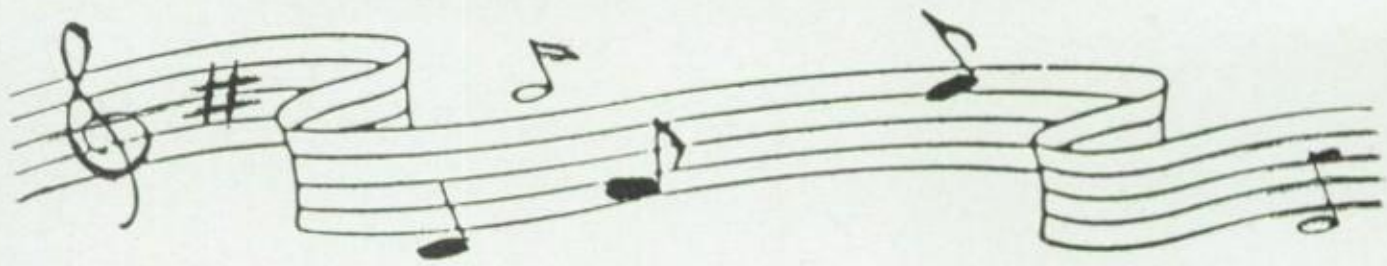
"SAVE ALL YOUR LOVE"



This year the Valentine Dance was certainly a night no one would forget. For the third year in a row, the weather did not affect the festivities. Everyone enjoyed the music of Mobile Music Machinery, from 8-11. "Save All Your Love," by Great White, was chosen as the theme. Señorita Tournear and the Spanish Club made the dance possible with great decorations and refreshments. The Valentine Dance of 1988 was indeed a night to remember.

CREATION IS INFINITE

OFF THE TRACK

The 1988 Drama Club fell Off the Track April 29 and 30. Led by director Judi Pogge and student director Angie Temple, the three act comedy featured the rich, spoiled Mrs. Vanderventer who thought her pearl necklace was stolen by the generous, Italian, Mrs. Guarino, and her insatiable daughter, Antonia Guarino. Comic relief was provided by the backward Silias Dobbins and the snoopy Miss Pidgie McDougal. Other antagonists included the four college students, the engaged couple, the station manager, and the man with the mysterious suitcase. The play leaves us with these thoughts: don't drink the water and put your pets in the restroom.

LEADERSHIP, DEPENDABILITY, SERVICE, AND PATRIOTISM — high ideals for any individual. The Yorkwood Class of 1988 nominated those classmates they felt best epitomized these traits within their senior class. The final selection was based on recommendations by the faculty. The 1988 Daughters of the American Revolution citizenship award was presented to Regena Frieden. Regena plans to attend Creighton University in the fall. Jeff Raes received the 1988 Sons of the American Revolution citizenship award and will continue his studies at the University of Illinois.

If you'll remember always
There's no goal you can't achieve,
If you'll try your very hardest and, above all else, believe—
Believe that you're a person
Who has something good to give,
Believe that you can make this world
A better place to live —
If you'll believe your talents
And your skills are needed too,
Then you're sure to find there's nothing
In the world you cannot do!

's not enough to have a dream unless you're willing to pursue it;
's not enough to know what's right unless you're strong enough to do it;
's not enough to join the crowd to be acknowledged and accepted; ou must be true to your ideals even if you're excluded and rejected;
's not enough to learn the truth
unless you also learn to live it;
's not enough to reach for love unless you care to give it.

JUST FOR OLD TIMES' SAKE

I, Jean Bass, leave the following: To Becky, a football game, Skey, a map of Stronghurst and the twins; to Traci, Kentucky nuggets and a game of baseball, Enjoy!; to Angie, a bag of pretzels and a cake; to Rotten, a real pen!; to Amy, a bottle of bubbles; to Tina, the "tallman", my blending abilities, Mr. Muscles, a roll of toilet paper; to Jan, a football game; to Cindi, a night I'll never forget, THANKS!; to Buster, a hearing aid; to the Jeffs, someone else's stuff to destroy; to Flickie, a pack of gum; to Valerie, hot buns; to everyone else, a personal day!

I, Todd Bowman, being of sound mind and body do will the following: to Dana Fuller, a set of deer whistles; to Tony Hartzell, the memories of a good car chase; to Mr. James, a small miniature Iowa football; to Jeff Raes, a small miniature Illini basketball; to Jamie, the best of wishes to you and "Julianna"; to Chris Laird, a Duke Blue Devils T-shirt; to Kerry, a book of excuses; to Jay, the ability to keep harrassing Mr. T.; to YHS, "thanks for the memories."

I, Bret Bryant, being of "Tonto" body, do hereby leave the following: to Steve Lovell, the ability to get up at the crack of dawn; to Dana Fuller, one pack of Salem Lights; to Jim Lanphere, the "Tonto" know-how and a pizza; to JDT, I leave John Tierney to bug him next year.

I, Amy Cokel, being of obviously underendowed body, will the following: to the Skipper, my ability to not skip school; to Michelle, a double-pediddle car and Chinese firedrills; to Angie, "Candyman"; to Mrs. Ross, a pair of pantyhose without runs; to Tye, fatherhood; to Dan, "Do you jig!"; to Trashy, another Warren County Prime Beef Festival Princess Pageant; to Meana, a personal year; to Rotten, an equilateral triangle and the ultimate slam session at Prom 1987; to K. Red, pizza, movies, and shopping, and the look on my face.

I, Steve Crain, being of wasted mind and forever-tan body, will the following: to Jeremi, my ability to slice and dice the defense of the Bi-County and a case of bullets; to Lisa and Regena, the ability to elude police at Buford's Barn; to Dan, training wheels for mopeds; to Sean, a new set of shocks; to Colby, a season pass to all MHS concerts; to Scott, a life free of term papers; to Michelle, someone else to watch over you; to Trashy, a fence to climb and a wet suit; to Matt, friendly advice — "don't swerve to avoid raccoons and watch your step;" also, I leave you a NICE, HOT, QUIET SHOWER; to Angie, some advice: "always listen to me!" and "Halloween is not a good night for an R.T."; and to Debbie, ALL MY LOVE.

I, Paula Doyle, being of sound mind and body will the following: to Wayne, another wife like me and children like we had; to Mindi, 5-B lunch; to "2-T", six arms so you can eat more; to Teresa, all the memories of the "Pink Panther" and my spot at the press box; to Janet, my friendship.

I, Tammy Doyle, being of sound mind and body, will the following: to Mindi, all of the memories of Monmouth, a BIG black book for all of her boyfriends' phone numbers, and my fingernails; to Lisa, the name Mona; to Janet, the ability to find me in Galesburg and Mary Lynn's paycheck; to Wayne, Mrs. Ray's 7th hour study hall; to the morning cafeteria people, I leave that spot for everyone.

I, Wayne Feehan, being of sound mind and irresistable body, leave the following: to Miss Cook, an upperclass student who will take care of things in the morning; to Jeff and Todd, my ability to work on my art work without being asked; to the lunch attendant, a blinking neon sign that reads, "NO FREE FOOD," and an extra set of lights in case they burn out; to Lisa, a year's supply of munchies for SH.

I, Regena Frieden, will the following: to Lisa, a paddleboat ride, a tent with a room divider, and an early morning jog; to Steve, a new cooler; to Traci, Swisher Sweets and a bowling ball; to Tina, a permanent vacation for her parents; to Chris Brown, my calculator; to Bu, a pair of Levis on the floor; to Angie, my brother; to Jeff Raes, all of my smashed spiral notebooks; and to Jan and Kim, a lifetime supply of deodorant.

I, Traci Gerald, will: to Lisa, a shopping cart ride at Wal-Mart; to Canada, Swisher Sweets; to Bu, a map of Aledo; to Tina, brown thongs and OJ; to Paula, a "muppet" and the ability to play baseball as well as I do; to Chris, a stogy; to Jeff, my accounting skills; to Carson, a large ice water and a PIONEER sign; to Becky, a trip around the world with !!!; to Jan, a NATURE hike; to Michelle, JoAnne, and Dani, a trip to Galesburg; to seventh hour study hall, a fan — 'cause it's HOT in there!!

I, Tina Hartzell, will the following: to Bu, a set of vampire fangs, "mmm-bomp-bomp-chic-chica-chicaw," and a man; to Rotton, a new blue wardrobe; to Jean, trips to Galesburg and a smaller "tallman;" to Traci, memories of OJ and the ability to climb a fence without . . .!; to Michelle Livingston, "our barn" and those T.P.ing weekends; to Amy, rhinestone jeans and an overly-endowed chest; to Chris, one fun last week with Mrs. Ray; to Tye, a fishing trip without poles.

I, Matt Hinton, being of empty mind and could-care-less attitude do hereby will the following: to Steve, a spot on the floor, the friendly advice that the next time you're at Jumers, "watch your step."; to Scott, "how's it goin' man?"; to Danny, my UNO playing ability; to Jeff, a ride to the hospital and some mousse; to Chad, my football and weight lifting abilities, along with a ride to school; to Ryan, my basketball-playing ability; to Coaches Simpson and Keener, a Bi-County Championship; to Angie, divorce papers, memories of a competitive chemistry hockey game, and the fulfillment of a successful movie career!; to Mrs. Hinton, my typing ability and my DIPLOMA; and to Jenny Ann, the "24th" and all my love!!

I, Scott Hume, being of empty mind and wallet, leave the following: to Matt, the grace to pick the right chair in his first college class; to Steve, the brain power to identify any unknown substance with the use of Kool Aid; to Jeremi, the ability to whisper and strong pects; to Sean, a record of more than 20 people to pass in the lunch line; to John, a hiding place for his keys; to Courtney, once-a-year reunion picnics; to Bu, a sample bottle of Listerine for those spur-of-the-moment encounters; to Amy, I leave all my love; to Mom, I leave all the good memories and a place in my heart.

I, Kathryn Judd, bequeath the following: to Joe, my love, devotion, admiration, stuffed animals, and all GTOs; to my parents, "good night and I love you"; to Mrs. Baker, three more children (GIRLS); to Miss Cook, someone else to stick out her tongue at; to Mrs. Daily, homemade bloomers; to Mrs. Hinton, a promise to get a haircut; to Mrs. Michael, a library about horses; to Miss Paul, a new whisper pump; to Miss Schrock, a volleyball partner; to Miss Tournear, her own laundromat and a special "thank you;" to Mr. Flynn, a prayer for good health; to Lisa, Traci, and fellow graduates, the spirit stick; and to all underclassmen, another year of high school.

I, Janet Liby, do hereby will the following: to Mona, another dude like my next . . . well, you know who!, a double size serving tray, someone else with wheels, and a busy night at Checkpoint; to Tammy, all my Friday nights at Galesburg, the ability to meet simultaneously, and lots of luck; to Eunice, 100 pounds of carrots salvaged from a tray; to Sandy, another cigarette; to Mary Lynn, another war, and a teacher's degree; and to Cindi, a two-man tent.

I, Jeff Raes, bequeath the following: to P. J., a 2½ gallon bucket; to Skip, a bottle of ammonia and "What, are you gay?"; to Hoda, a weight lifting medal and a night with ?; to Mike, a greenskeeper; to Jan and Jill, a ride to church; to Matt, a trip to the hospital; to Steve, a fullback to pick his holes; to Dan, another year of Economics; to Cookie, the ability to find the bathroom; to Dustin, a new cedar chest; to Kim, the ability to drive between the ditches and what Shawn said; to everyone else, divide it up amongst yourselves.

I, Fara Reitman, being of sound mind and body do hereby relinquish to the following: to Becky, Jan, and Jill, a great time to chat in history class; to Janet, Tammy, Lisa, Mary Lynn, and my sister, a fun experience working in the cafeteria; to my sister, lots of sisterly love and anything else she wants; to Amy, Megan, Paula, and Tammy, a good year and it was a great pleasure just to know them; to Dustin, Jason, and Gus, the ability to keep on being the biggest jerks that I know in our school; and finally, to the rest of my class, the ability to succeed in life and the good feeling of knowing them for many years.

I, Lisa Reitman, with an outrageous sense of humor and an irregular mind, will the following: to Lynda Jacobson, my locker; to Lisa, a double helping of mashed potatoes and gravy and her personal lovelorn column; to Mary Lynn, sanity; to Fara, a drum set and a chance to be alone with Bill; to Jason, Gus, Dustin, and Jeff, a place on the dance floor; to Jamie, Roger, and Dana, peace and quiet on the bus; to Jay, a backseat on the bus by the heater on cold days; to Jim Lanphere, someone else to talk to in the hallways.

I, Austin Shauman, being of sound mind and body do leave the following: to Tracey Skees, a red strapless prom dress, the ability to "slam" people, and John Terry and Shantel; to John Terry, BLTs from Tracey, the birds and squirrels at my old house; head grease monkey at Pizza Hut, and Ann; to Kelli Buckert, I leave memories of the park and corner, a guy who will love you and be loyal to you as I was, and Ann; to Tom Chenoweth, the ability to fix up the dragon, the ag student teacher, Dixie 3, a good job and future with Steph; to the Strickland Brothers, Dad's Root Beer and the ability to find someone to beat up; to the YHS band, all the musical talent I never had; to all friends, relatives, and enemies of Yorkwood, the ability to goof off, terrorize, and bug the heck out of people.

I, Lisa Stenger, being of brilliant mind and rather-not-say body, will: to Señorita, Frank and a big thanks; to Michelle, more trips to Little York; to Canada, my parents' waterbed and a tent in the rain; to Wayne, a map of my yard; to Amy, her own ID; to Traci, two bowling balls and a white convertible; to Jill, Kim, and Tammy, study hall gossip; to Angie, a list of friends, church steps, and my sombrero; to Chris, a skywriting of "Lisa Kicks!"; and to everyone else, the best of luck.

I, Cindi Taylor, leave the following: to Sloopy, another night at B & B's and Bufords; Don't forget Robbie, too!; to TC, some of my saliva and a real B-day party; to Janet, a night at Youngs; to Minimoo, all the exciting times at Aoompa's; to Aoompa, someone else to beat on; to JB, a set of #4077 M.A.S.H. sheets; to MH, another Halloween night; to Austin, a shoulder; to Agee-hee and Tricia, some answers; to Troll or Toad, I leave a bottle of baby oil and a "wrestling match;" to everyone else, a BIG THANKS.

I, Angie Temple, being of sane mind and casual body, toss around trash: to Lisa, July 4ths, Benny's, and Kugo; to Bu, "Easy Nights"; to Canada, my car troubles; to Gomez, a collection of KISS albums, matches, and Kirkwood summers; to Fatboy, rides home, and "I LIKE IKE" buttons; to Steve, philosophies and trees to climb; to Trashy, wet hallways and skate ranch memories; to Matt, divorce papers, chemistry memories, and a movie career; to Jeff H., hats that baseballs won't break; to Melissa, my attitude; to Jeremi, Marta; and to all the remaining dudes, gnarly times and memories of me.

I, Amy Totten, being of multi-talented mind and body do will the following: to Tina, a bodyguard, a specimen bottle, and a "Guppy-lips whoops;" to Michelle, the tradition of "the few, the proud . . ." and a bottle of Ivory; to Lisa, gray paint, a night in the "cop shop" and a trip to Little York; to Bu, a new shoe and a man; to Amy Cokel, a nickle, so she'll never ever be "flat busted" again; to Traci, Swisher Sweets and a bottle of Mountain Dew; to Jean, a 2 a.m. hike; to JoAnne, a new collection; and to Teresa, chipmunk cheeks.

I, Bu Vaughn, being very absent minded leave: to Trashy, a floating key ring and safe pieces; to Tina, someone to sing "mmm-bomp-bomp-chic-chica-chicaw" with; to Lisa, two dudes and "Oh, %!#$%@ they're home!!"; to Rotten, anything orange cause she wears too much blue; to Amy, the song, "She's a Rhinestone Cowgirl"; to Canada, a man; to Steve, the Jeffs, Dopie, Chris, Mike, and Shawn, someone else to bug; to Melissa, the Vega, a trip to Mexico . . . now, and unlimited visits; to Yorkwood girls, a prom date!

I, Dan Williams, being of mid-sized body and an overworked mind, wish to leave the following: to all underclassmen, have fun with school and don't overwork yourselves; to Dustin Crandall, my parking place; to Paula and Casey, a pad of my executive notebook paper, use it wisely; to Chad, Ryan, and Brett, keep up the family tradition of causing troubles; to Mr. Schar, no more saying, "Mr. Williams, do you have somewhere to be?"; to Chad and Colby, hope you find some real girls; to Steve and Matt and the rest of the senior class, "thanks for the memorable times."

Jean Bass, became a WWF announcer after her long-time idol, Mean Gene Oakerland, had retired.

After many years of hard work, Todd Bowman started his own basketball association, the BBALY (or better known as the Bank Ball Association of Little York.)

Brett Bryant fled the country in a Domino's delivery car after being found guilty of embezzling pizzas from that organization.

Amy Cokel was committed to a rest home at the age of 30 after working seven different jobs a day and trying to raise a family of 12 children with her husband, Pee-Wee Herman.

Steve Crain has had a successful broadcasting career doing color commentary for the University of Iowa Hawkeyes. Steve was inspired by the "colorful" comments his father directed at him on the Golden Bear football field back during his playing days.

Paula Doyle has become a crusader for equal rights among the starving students of the world. Paula owns a company that dispenses free food to the needy and advertises that she is definitely an equal opportunity employer.

Tammy Doyle earned a spot in sports history when she was named the first female champion NASCAR driver on the U.S. circuit.

Wayne Feehan is now a world-famous fashion designer living in Milano, Italy. Wayne has hired Miss Cook as a consultant and sends all his designs to her for the "finishing touch" before putting them into production.

Regena Frieden left for Nebraska shortly after graduaton where she fell in love with a genuine Nebraska Cornhusker! They have quite a successful business operation going called "Dr. Doolittle's Cornhusker Zoo."

Traci Gerald married "Bill," then divorced him and took over the grocery store, which she renamed "Trashy's."

Tina Hartzell led a mutiny, overthrew the Stallion, and became CEO at the local Pizza Hut.

Matt Hinton worked 9 to 5 just long enough to put his wife through college. Then he retired and now spends his days lying in the sun while Jenny supports the family.

Scott Hume made the headlines a few years back when he took the slam-dunk trophy away from Spud Webb. Scott has since retired from his pro basketball career and now manages the "Bombay Bombers," perennial champions of the BBALY — Eastern Division.

Kathryn Judd joined a well-known cheerleading squad and has received the award year after year for being the MOST SPIRITED member of the group.

Janet Liby became a legend in her own time when she was named NCAA Badminton Champ. We're proud to say "We knew her when . . ."

Jeff Raes changed his name to Alex P. Keaton and is currently head coach for the Green Bay Packers under general manager, Highway Robber.

Lisa & Fara Reitman joined forces and started their own dance studio called Reitman Dance Company, where their motto is "if you can look like Madonna, we can make you dance like Madonna."

Austin Shauman manages his own rock band and tours the country just "lovin' um and leavin' um!"

Lisa Stenger has perfected her Joan Rivers' impersonation and is now booked on all the talk shows as "Miss Gossip."

Cindy Taylor headed west the night of graduation and settled in Sun City, Arizona where she's made her fortune selling "Cactus Juice Revitalizing Potion" to the senior citizens.

Angie Temple fulfilled her father's dream and became the best "wheelin-dealin" used car saleswoman around.

Amy Totten became a U.S. Presidential Advisor and was assigned to the blue room of the White House — something about not having to buy a whole new wardrobe!

Michelle Vaughn packed up her presents the night of graduation and drove away in her yellow Vega. Michelle's one big accomplishment in the past 20 years — she can now dry her own clothes single-handedly!

Danny Williams kept up the family tradition and became the Kirkwood Fire Chief for a short period of time until he got too close to a fire and singed all the hair off his body.

ALL THE TIME IN THE WORLD

Inexhaustible quips can be recited about time — fleeting, perpetual, passing too fast, eternity in every minute. What an appropriate theme for the 1988 yearbook, indeed, for the 1987-88 school year. We can be illumined by our time together or trodden down by that very same time. Regardless, what we all must do with time, is share it.

This year we have shared our time in an epoch of technology, struggles, sadness, and, of course, numerous joys. Technology granted us the opportunities to see George Bush "bushwhack" Dan Rather in a live interview on the Evening News, and computers that provide hands and voices for people who must deal with those handicaps. Technology also provided the miraculous, yet ethically questionable, organ and tissue implants from fetal tissue, causing patients of heretofore incurable illness to meet with healing.

On the topic of ethics, the New Jersey Supreme Court ruled that paying women to be surrogate mothers was "illegal, perhaps criminal, and potentially degrading to women." Even so, the famous Baby M was awarded to her father, with her mother granted visiting privileges. Another baby in the news was Jessica McClure, the eighteen-month-old who fell into the Texas well and survived as the nation watched her fifty-eight-hour rescue.

Politically, "if at first you don't succeed . . ." might have been President Reagan's quote of the year. After meeting with the Soviet Union's Premier Gorbachev several times, the two leaders finally came to a compatible agreement, while their wives reached a "Mexican Stand-Off." In a classic "third time's charm" move, Reagan first nominated Robert Bork for the new Supreme Court Justice, followed this with a nomination of Douglas Ginsburg, and eventually was successful with his third nominee, Anthony Kennedy. Mrs. Reagan also made the headlines quite often this year as she underwent a modified radical mastectomy, worked with the "Just Say No" program on drug abuse, and looked to astrology for daily guidance, according to former presidential advisor, Donald Regan.

"Now is the time for every good man to come to the aid of his country." In the presidential primaries, an exciting race featured an endless list of candidates — for the Democrats: Hart, Jackson, Simon, Dukakis, Gore, Gephardt, Babbitt; and for the Republicans: Bush, Dole, Kemp, Robertson, Haig, and duPont. Of course, the favorite in the race was Morris the Cat. As he was quoted to have said, "I may shed, but I don't shred."

Shreds of evidence plummeted the careers of many, as now-famous names like Ollie North, Jim Bakker, Oral Roberts, Jimmy Swaggart, and Gary Hart became victims of their own past.

In October the stock market stunned millions as nearly half a trillion dollars plunged to the murky depths of the stock market floor. PTL met the IRS, artifacts from 1912 were salvaged from the Titanic, the Winter Olympics were hosted by Calgary, and nine-year-old Sharon Batts made the Top Forty with "Dear Mr. Jesus," a song focusing on child abuse. There was a push for the legalization of drugs "to lesson the crime and profits," Pope John Paul II made his U.S. tour to restore church discipline, and the newest knowledge about AIDS emphasized that the best thing one could do was to educate himself on the facts, rather than rely on the rumors about the disease. We can even claim some local notoriety with the discovery of the Knoxville mummy that gained national attention through Ophra. In the Hawaiian Islands, an island hop flopped as Aloha 737 disintegrated in flight, teaching us that time bears its toll with all things.

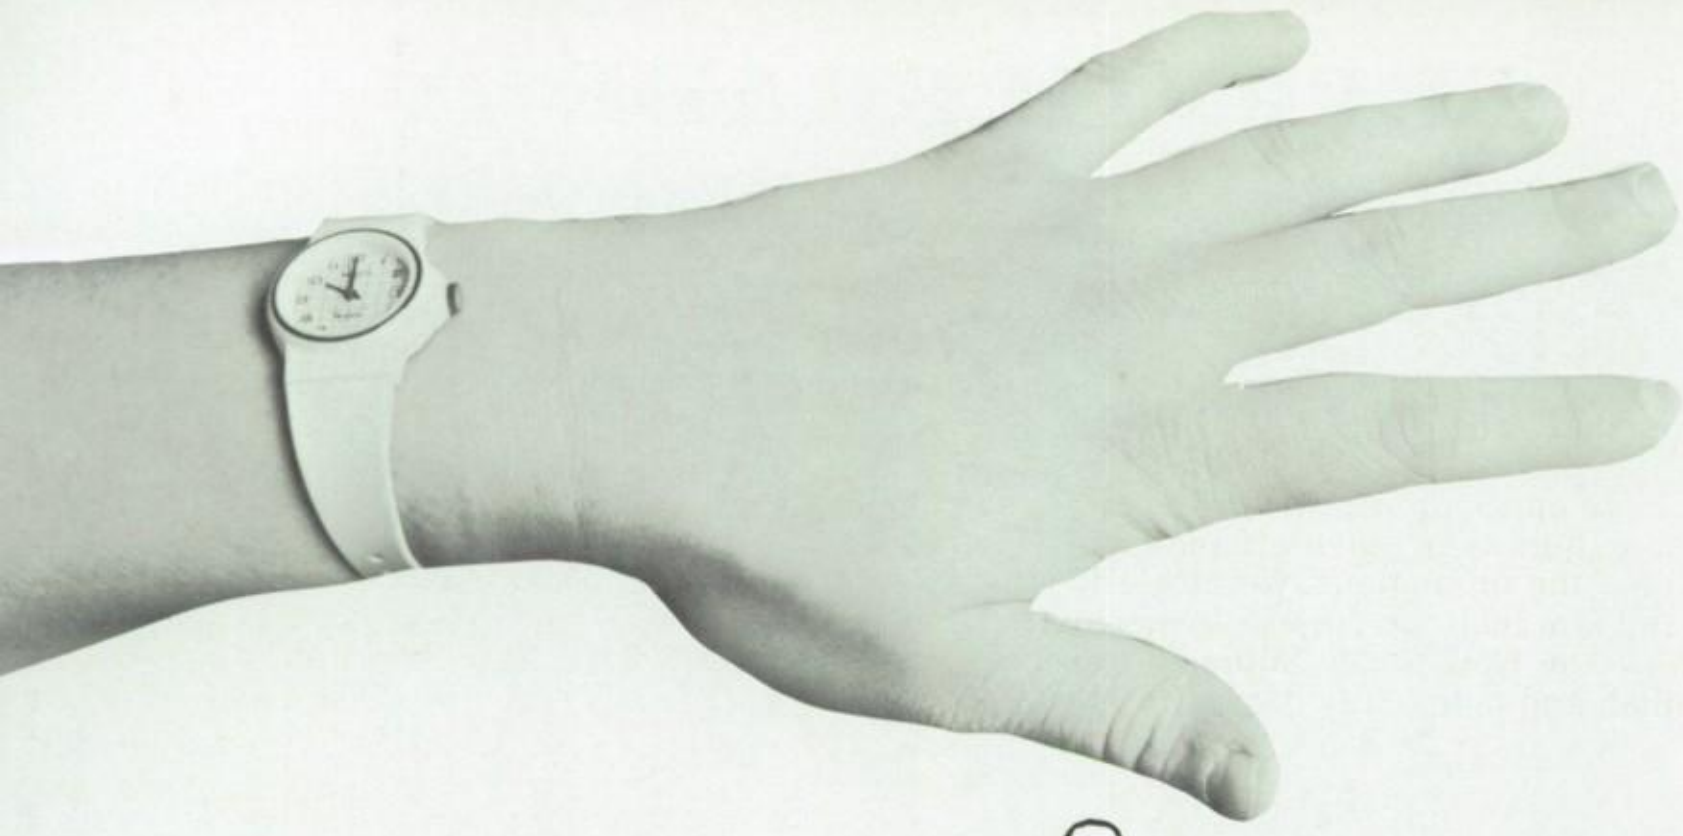
In the entertainment industry, Tom Selleck married Jillie Mack, and Burt Reynolds and Loni Anderson tied the proverbial knot. Bill Cosby walked away with numerous awards again, and Michael Jackson was BAD. Ninety-two-year-old George Burns played a YOUNGER man — an eighty-one year old, and we celebrated the 100th birthday of the great songwriter, Irving Berlin. Hit movies included "Three Men and a Baby," "Moonstruck," and "Good Morning Vietnam."

On the local scene, time went fairly fast this year. Being a small rural community, we escape many of the blights of the large city. According to the Feb. 1, 1988 issue of Time, the leading school discipline problems in the 1940's were talking, chewing gum, making noise, running in the hallways, getting out of place in line, wearing improper clothing, and not putting paper in wastebaskets. By comparison, the leading school discipline problems of the 1980's are drug abuse, pregnancy, suicide, rape, robbery, assault, burglary, arson, and bombings. In our semi-secure bubble of the Yorkwood area, these school problems may seem as distant as Gorbachev and Calgary, yet they stealthily haunt the lives of our own young adults.

In the 1987-88 school year, we welcomed new faculty members Larry Keener, Linda Mannon, Karen Ray, Judy Ross, Judy Vineyard, and Frances Watson, as well as substitutes, Brian Elliott, Warren Martin, and Virginia Ross, who spent a great deal of time with us. We found comfort in the continuing health of Jim Flynn, though his struggle has been tragic and difficult. We celebrated with Mr. Symington when he was named "Conservation Teacher of the Year." We joined the Baker family as they welcomed their new son, Jacob, and we mourned the loss of close family members of both students and faculty, including John Feehan, Sandra Hume, Phyllis Smith, Marvin Baker, and Lyle Tyrrell.

Keeping up with the fashion scene, our stone-washed and iced denims were appropriately ripped by the leading manufacturers, topped off with the tie-dye look and those colorful glasses that served no purpose whatsoever, except to look fashionable. Styles for Prom '88 seemed to follow national trends as many of the young ladies chose shorter gowns, and black was the favorite color.

We maintained a relatively quiet year, being humbled by the most extensive ineligibility lists ever and the controversial forfeiting of the Northwestern basketball game. But, overall, we reveled in our achievements. Our building trades class undertook a major renovation project, our athletes experienced more success in sports programs, our musicians added a chorus to the Christmas concert, many students became highly involved in numerous class and club activities, and we enjoyed our social gatherings. Perhaps our most memorable events of 1987-88 were spent in simple moments together.



Time for Seconds

Time flows from instants, and of these each one
Should be esteem'd as if it were alone;
The shortest space, which we so highly prize
When it is coming, and before our eyes,
Let it but slide into th' eternal main,
No realms, no worlds, can purchase it again.

Led by Coach Jim Flynn, the eighth grade Bears had an outstanding year as they brought home the first place trophy from both the Sand Valley Tournament and the Regional Tournament. Eric Bergren led in scoring, Chris Cooper led in assists, and Jake Drew brought down the most rebounds for the season.

The seventh graders, coached by Charles Seward, achieved more success as the season progressed, ending with a 5-10 record. Players and coaches were honored at a Winter Sports Recognition Banquet in March.

JR. HIGH OLYMPIANS

On April 28 Yorkwood students Lynn Adwell, Sara Erlandson, Jeff Frieden, and Jenny Smith had the opportunity to participate in the first annual JUNIOR OLYMPIAD. The contest was held in Monmouth and was sponsored by the State of Illinois Education Service Region 11. The Yorkwood scholars were in competition with six other teams. Problem-solving areas included in the competition were logic problems, estimation/guestimation problems, construction problems, math/science logic problems, and creative expression problems. Ms. Lori Paul was the team sponsor and commended all of the Yorkwood team members for representing their school well.

STUDENT COUNCIL

The Student Council organizes many of the Junior High activities throughout the year. Their major money-making activity is the magazine sales compaign each fall. In November they also sponsored the first Junior High Book Fair. The end-of-the-year party is an activity that all Junior High students look forward to, and it is also sponsored by this group — sometimes a dance, other times a skating party. During recent years the Student Council has donated a computer to the Junior High wing, and annually the organization contributes a large sum to the yearbook fund.
